June 2—Albuquerque, 6; Maroons, 7.
Standing of the Team.
Won 7, lost 0; per centage 1.000.

Through exceptionally good luck and the fact that Albuquerque had little to offer in the way of offensive and defensive play, the Maroons defeated the Albuquerque Grays Saturday by a score of 15 to 8 and won out yesterday 7 to 6. Sorensen pitched Saturday's game and might have scored a shutout had it not been for a brace of errors by Lockhart and the neglect of the umpire to call a batsman out who hit an infield fly with the bases full. This cost six runs. In the eighth inning Sorensen, evidently rattled by his poor support, allowed five hits. By that time the Maroons had braced up a little and, by fast fielding, kept the slaughter down to two runs. That was the extent of Albuquerque's scoring.

If Saturday's game was fierce yesterday's was rotten. The Maroons were playing against a bunch of amateurs and they did not gain any glory through the contrast. One would have thought they were a bunch of high school kids instead of a well paid, well fed bunch of near-stars and hope-to-be's. Polly Barr was on the rubber for the locals. He didn't get going good for about seven innings and was hit freely. Whenever the opposing batsmen didn't hit safely they pounded the ball hard right square on the nose and some of the gallant Maroons pulled off a bonehead or a juicy error to help the show along.

To make matters worse the crowd began geying the home team. Must be playing rotten ball when a Las Vegas crowd will do any shouting for Albuquerque, No. 1. The fun began in the first inning. The first man got a base on balls. The next bunted to Barr. McIntyre was playing in close and he was unable to get back to the first sack. Lockhart, who was stationed at second, covered first, but the throw was too late to get the runner. The next batter laid the ball down and Barr headed it off. With men on first and second the play clearly should have gone to third. However, Captain Owen was not among those present on the third sack. Lockhart again ran over to cover first, but Barr held on to the ball, with the result that everybody was safe. At this juncture Captain Owen benched Lockhart, presumably for not covering first in his time. He did not bench himself, however, although he had failed to cover third on a forced run.

Lockhart is a popular chap with the fans and they almost tore down the stand when they saw what had happened. Owen is a gentleman all the time and a good baseball player once in a while, but his judgment yesterday was poor. Shirley who replaced Lockhart on second, made some jolly errors and Sorensen, whom he had stationed on short, booted a couple and stood and watched another infield grounder wander by him for a hit. By opportune hitting late in the game, when some of the Albuquerque players misjudged and booted balls that would have been handled easily by competent ball tossers, the Maroons managed to tie the score. In the last half of the ninth two errors by Salazar and sacrifice hits by Shirley and Buckles chased the winning run over the pan. After putting up such a rotten exhibition, to win was like highway robbery and the Maroons were kidded unmercifully while on the cars for town. Lack of good clubs to play against is largely responsible for the Maroons' slump, doubtless. They have shown in other games that they can play good ball. It is to be hoped they will take a brace and get down to business at once.

PHILADELPHIA JACK

O'Brien, Who Has Fought Both Fireman and Colored Champion, Declares the Former Has a Good Chance to Win the Battle on July 4—Ryan's Pupil Is Growing Better Under His New Tutor and the Two Are Fast Friends—Rival Boxers Entertain Large Crowds Yesterday.

"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien is so convinced that Jim Flynn will whip Jack Johnson on July 4 that he has written Promoter Charles O'Malley that he will be here to see the title reclaimed by the white race. O'Brien fought both Flynn and Johnson in six round bouts in 1909 and he knows something of the relative ability of the two men. In O'Brien's letter he says:

"Flynn should give the champion a great battle and I think he has a great chance, although Johnson is one of the greatest exponents of boxing that ever lived. I have fought both of them and I am sure that Flynn has a good chance to win, although Johnson at all times is a dangerous proposition and liable to pass one over when least expected. I hardly think he is any better, if as good, as he was some years ago, but, nevertheless, he is too good to be fooled with. Wishing you lots of success, I am,

"Yours very truly,

"JACK O'BRIEN."

O'Brien will bring his son along and allow "Young Jack" to watch the big battle.

Promoter Jack Curley wired Promoter Charles O'Malley today that he was leaving San Francisco for Los Angeles. In the former city Curley met with much encouragement and he was assured that large numbers of coast fans would attend the big battle on Independence day.

While in Los Angeles Curley expects to engage Abdul the Turk, the famous wrestler, as a rubber in Flynn's corner. It is rumored here that the Wolgast-Rivers bout, to have been staged in Los Angeles on July 4, will be called off on account of the fact that Wolgast is still suffering from the effects of his late operation.

His recent fights having shown his condition not to be satisfactory for entrance into a long, hard battle. If the rumor is correct immense crowds will come here from the coast.

Sport followers will be glad to know that Ryan and his pupil, Flynn, have become as thick as brothers. They admire each other like members of the same college fraternity. It was feared by some that the two would not get along nicely and that Flynn might not take kindly to the advice offered him by his trainer-in-chief. On the contrary, however, Flynn lets Ryan order him around and is never disposed to talk back. His rapid improvement since the arrival of Ryan is attributable to Ryan's admonition.

Ryan is a trifle cautious about Flynn's defense. He thinks the big fellow leaves too many openings and is schooling him in the art of protecting himself while, at the same time, worrying his antagonist as much as possible. He likes Flynn's rugged physique and his ability to take punishment. Flynn's style also appeals to Ryan as the best method of getting under Johnson's guard. He knows Flynn's style is a roughing fight and it is a roughing fight that the fireman is being perfected in. Ryan believes this is the kind of hope to get the streak of yellow that he is confident exists in the black men's makeup.

Johnson and Flynn both performed their gymnasium stunts before large crowds of visitors yesterday. Unbiased observers declare Johnson looks slow, compared with his former speed. However, to one who has never seen him before, he appears as fast as a streak of very quick but very black lightning. Flynn knocked out two of his sparring partners and had Howard Morrow ready to quit at the end of the third session.

Johnson expects to play a few exhibition dates before the big fight. June 6 he will go to Santa Fe and on or about June 17 he will appear in Albuquerque. He says he has run off five pounds since coming here, and his weight today was 227.

The special trains from Denver bearing fans for the big bout will leave the Colorado capital on the morning of July 2 and will reach here on the third. The railroad fare both ways, including Pullman accommodations is $25.00.

The following persons have ordered blocks of tickets and expect to be here to witness the big Fourth of July show, accompanied by parties of fellow townsmen: R. A. Hamilton, Sugar City, Colo.; A. H. Whipple, New Concord, O.; C. R. Brown and

Fred J. Geyer of the Bank of Springfield, Springfield, N. M.; Ed Murphy, Shoemaker; W. R. Cregar, Gallup, N. M.; A. A. Movick, Laramie, Wyo.; Walter E. Mayer, Colorado Springs; B. F. Stewart, Gillette, Wyo.; H. L. Dye, Garden City, Kan.

INTERESTING COURSES
AT THE SUMMER SCHOOL

NORMAL WILL PROVIDE INSTRUCTION FOR HOUSEWIVES AND TEACHERS.

What is expected to be the most successful summer session ever held at the Normal University will begin tomorrow. For the benefit of teachers useful courses have been provided and the school also has arranged to give some courses that will be of interest and profit to the people of the city who care to avail themselves of the opportunity to spend a few hours each week in study during the early summer season.

Mrs. Ida Kruse McFarland, who delighted Las Vegas last summer with her lectures, will be at the Normal again this year. She will teach two classes, one in constructive English and one in literature and will lecture once each week upon subjects to be announced later. Miss Elizabeth Mo-Meehan, the foremost primary teacher in Colorado, and a highly successful institute worker, will give five lectures on subjects of interest to grade teachers. There will be special lectures by physicians of the city upon the need of physical examination and care of children. The president and dean will give lectures on pedagogical and sociological problems and Governor W. C. McDonald and State Superintendent Alvan N. White will give addresses before the students during the session.

For the housewives of the city a course in household chemistry will be given by the science department of which John C. Baker is the head. This course may be given in conjunction with the domestic science course by Miss George, which will be adapted especially to the needs of housekeepers. The chemistry course will teach the chemistry of cooking and will give the pupils instruction in the detection of adulterants in food-stuffs. The hours will be arranged so as to suit the convenience of the greater number of persons desiring to take the course.

Miss Ross and Miss Chinton will have classes respectively in elocution and instrumental music and the entire teaching staff will be present to take charge of the various courses. The summer school will close on July 26.

Escorted by men interested in good roads in New Mexico, the members of the Los Angeles times ocean-to-ocean highway party made a trip to the Hot Springs this afternoon, paying a visit to the training quarters of Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman. On the return trip to Las Vegas they stopped at the "Big Smoke's" camp.

The Las Vegas grant board held its regular monthly meeting today in its quarters on the Plaza. The board spent the greater part of the day in looking after routine business. The board some time ago brought action for the forfeiture of the bond of the Camfield Development company of Greeley, Colo., which had the contract for the construction of the irrigation system on the grant north of this city. The company's contract ran out sometime ago and it applied for an extension of time. The board agreed to grant the extension provided the company would renew the bond. This it failed to do and steps were taken to protect the grant.
